

1. SUMMARY OF GOVERNMENT FINANCIAL SUPPORTS

(additional programs and details in the chart that starts on page 3)

Federal

- Canada Emergency Response Benefit (CERB)
 - Provides a taxable benefit of $2,000 per month for up to four months.
 - Expected to be available by early April.
- Employment Insurance (EI)
 - Various forms of EI benefits are available to Canadians.
 - Eligible individuals receive 55% of earnings up to a maximum of $573/week.
 - Certain eligibility criteria are waived during the COVID-19 pandemic (e.g., one-week waiting period is waived for people in self-isolation).
- Canada Child Benefit
 - Families with children will get a $300 boost to their May 2020 payment.
- Goods and Services Tax (GST) Credit
 - Canadians already receiving the GST Credit will receive a one-time special payment by early May 2020.
 - The average boost to income for those who are eligible will be close to $400 for single individuals and close to $600 for couples.
- Job Protected Leave
 - Canadians required to self-isolate due to COVID-19 may take up to 14 days of job-protected leave.
 - A medical note is not required.
 - A variety of other job-protected leaves are still available.
- Income Tax Deferral
 - Filing due date for 2019 individual tax returns is deferred until June 1, 2020.
 - Payment of any income tax amounts owing is deferred until after August 31, 2020.
 - No interest or penalties will accumulate on these amounts during this period.
- Student Loan Deferral (National Student Loans Service Centre)
 - All federal student loan repayment and interest charges will automatically be paused for six months.
 - Effective March 30, 2020.
- Registered Retirement Income Funds (RRIFs) Withdrawal Reduction
 - The required minimum withdrawal from RRIFs will be reduced by 25 per cent for the 2020 tax year.

Provincial

- Emergency Isolation Support
 - Provides a one-time payment of $1,146 to eligible Albertans.
 - Once approved, Albertans receive payment within 24-48 hours.
 - Available as of March 25, 2020.
- Student Loan Deferral (Alberta Student Aid)

- All provincial student loan repayment and interest charges will automatically be paused for six months.
- Effective March 30, 2020.
- Renter Protections
 - Evictions for non-payment of rent are banned until at least May 1. Evictions for other reasons such as damaging property are still permitted.
 - Rent increases are also frozen and landlords cannot charge late fees for three months.
 - Landlords are obliged to work with tenants to develop a payment plan where the tenant cannot pay full rent.

Municipal

- Utility Payment Deferral
 - From March 18 to June 18, 2020, electricity and natural gas consumers can defer bill payments for 90 days, and utility companies cannot disconnect consumers' utilities.
 - ENMAX and City of Calgary water, waste, and recycling consumers have access to a COVID-19 Relief Program providing increased payment flexibility such as installment plans, extending payment dates, and suspension of collection-related activities.
- Property Tax Reduction and Deferral
 - Residential education property tax rates are frozen at last year's level, reversing a planned 3.4 per cent increase.
 - Some municipalities are offering property tax payment deferrals.
- Public Transportation Fare and Parking Fee Reductions
 - Some municipalities are offering reduced public transportation fares and public parking fees.

Private

- Financial Institution Deferral and Relief
 - Effective immediately, Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC) is providing increased flexibility for homeowners facing financial difficulties to defer mortgage payments on homeowner CMHC-insured mortgage loans by permitting lenders to allow payment deferral, loan re-amortization, capitalization of outstanding interest arrears and other eligible expenses, and special payment arrangements.
 - Canada's six largest banks (Bank of Montreal, CIBC, National Bank of Canada, RBC Royal Bank, Scotiabank, and TD Bank), along with ATB Financial and credit unions, are providing various options to pause/defer mortgage payments and manage other debt.
 - Many financial institutions are working with customers to provide other flexible solutions, on a case-by-case basis, including deferrals and relief on credit products.
 - In most instances, interest is still accrued on debts, even where deferrals are granted or minimum monthly fees do not have to be paid.

2. DETAILED CHART OF GOVERNMENT FINANCIAL SUPPORTS

Support Type	Jurisdiction	Description
Canadian Emergency Response Benefit (CERB)	Federal	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Provides $2000 a month for Canadians who have lost their job, are sick, quarantined, or taking care of someone who is sick with COVID-19, as well as working parents who must stay home without pay to care for children who are sick or at home because of school and daycare closures. All EI applications dated back to March 15, 2020 will automatically be changed to CERB applications if it relates to COVID19 as the application process for CERB won't even be available until early April. Canadians who are already receiving EI regular and sickness benefits as of today will continue to receive their benefits and should not apply to the CERB. If their EI benefits end before October 3, 2020, they could apply for the CERB once their EI benefits cease, if they are unable to return to work due to COVID-19. Criteria: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Workers who must stop working due to COVID-19 and do not have access to paid leave or other income support. Workers who are sick, quarantined, or taking care of someone who is sick with COVID-19. Working parents who must stay home without pay to care for children that are sick or need additional care because of school and daycare closures. Workers who still have their employment but are not being paid because there is currently not sufficient work and their employer has asked them not to come to work.
