

Illuminating Sustainable Organizations Through Connection

In a world that shifts like sand,
Needs change and technology continues to expand,
Demographics paint a vibrant hue,
Learning needs remain steadfast and true.

CALPs stand strong in every town,
Lifting learners when hope feels down.
Challenged but resilient, they brace and spin,
Opening doors where dreams begin.

Yet foundational needs still call our name,
Literacy, learning—the timeless flame.
So how to stay current, bold, and bright,
Despite the climb of the mountain's height?

Remember, behind this local spark,
A network works to leave its mark—
CLN, the steady hand,
Strengthening roots across the land.

Training, tools, and voices loud,
Advocacy that makes us proud,
Together they weave a lasting thread,
Connecting futures where hope is spread.

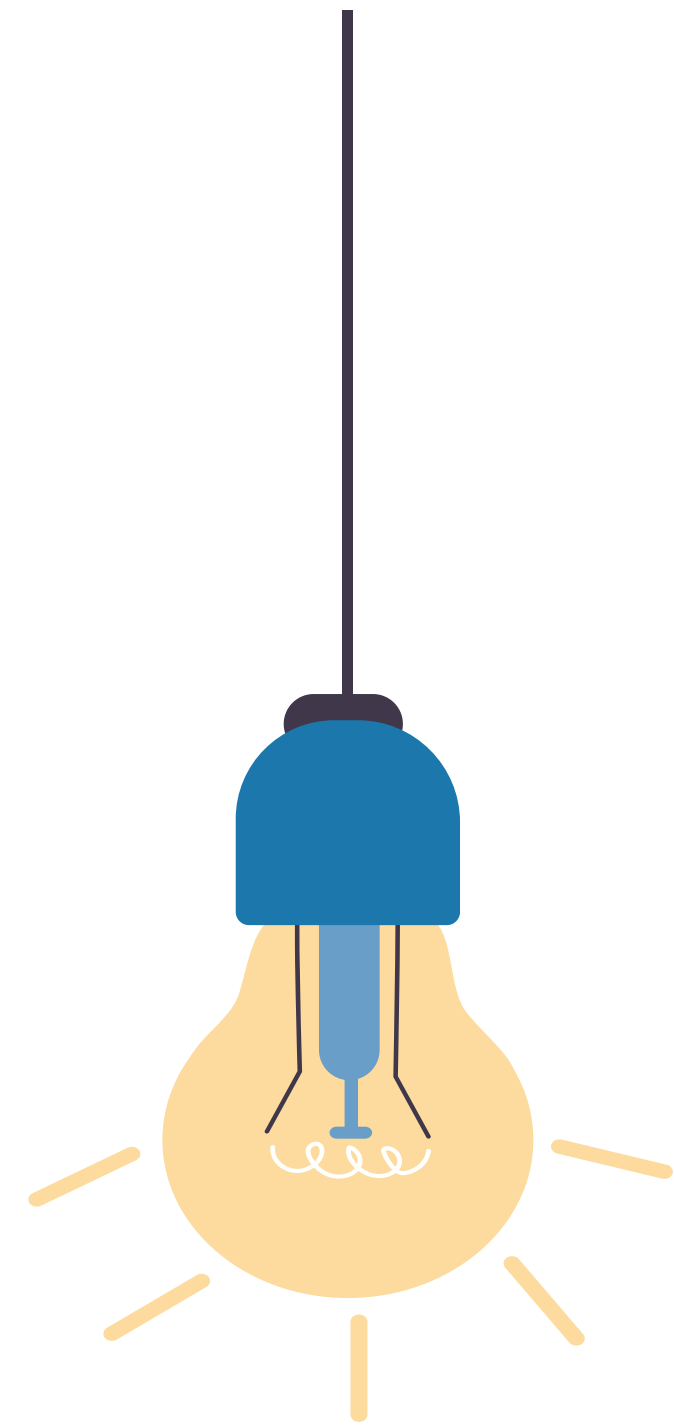

From funding councils or the G.O.A.'s gate,
Capital flows to innovate,
Many circles joined, a system whole,
Empowering minds, enriching soul.

In this world of flux and flow,
Together we can illuminate and grow.
The connection between us, strong and true,
In purpose, passion, and learners too.

And yet how do we keep sustainability in sight?
There are still many challenges, right?
By CALPs and CLN keeping the dialogue bright,
Exploring new ways to sustain the light.

Thus, our efforts should continue—
Join us for some conversation, please, you!
Come tell us, what's in your shopping cart?
We'd be so pleased for you to take part.

The CLN board is brewing delight,
Some collective fun hides out of sight.
Join us in person, don't miss the cue,
What's waiting for you? Only presence will do!
